Artist Statement:

"Portal" was created in 2016 as a collaborative project between Victoria (Reed) Nieman and Keenan Lampe. The piece was intended to both create a foci with which to visually integrate the work into its surroundings and simultaneously distort and shift that perception. The piece itself is monumental, powerful, yet seems fractured and when illuminated half obscures its own light with the very material it is built from, a means to describe our imperfect understanding and to hint at the sublime that is just beyond our comprehension.
